Acupuncture the Drugless System

Acupuncture is the wonderful treatment system which is connected with nature. The traditional acupuncture medical system, which originated in China about 8000 years ago, gives facile treatment for all kinds of ailments.

Acupuncture is recognized and applied in 178 out of 192 member states of the United Nations (UN) and eighty percent of 129 member states of the World Health Organization (WHO). WHO traditional medicine strategy: 2014–2023 states that "Acupuncture is one of the medical systems which spreads rapidly all over the world".

Due to impaired performance of the twelve major inner organs of our body and accumulation of morbid, an impediment occurs in the functioning of our body. Impaired performance and morbid accumulation are the root causes of all diseases. By identifying the functional disorder with the help of traditional diagnosing methods and providing acupuncture treatment by stimulating the acupuncture point in our body, we can get rid of all diseases. Although the ailment is in an earlier stage or of an advanced stage, providing a permanent cure is the highlight of the acupuncture treatment method.

Dr. Fazlur Rahman and Dr. Siddiq Jamal, called "Doctor Brothers", are the two allopathic doctors who absorbed the philosophy of acupuncture and started providing treatment in Tamil Nadu during the year 1984. More than one lakh people who were treated and cured by doctors created the outbreak of acupuncture. Doctor Brothers restored the formal pulse diagnosis method of acupuncture.
